

Dear Steve,

Thank you for the Policy documents. Everything is now in place.

I would like to say how smoothly the whole transaction went. Sometimes one wonders if using an Internet service for something as personal as the purchase of a financial services product will work satisfactorily. Well I am happy to say that, having made contact with your Company through the Internet, the subsequent service was both individual and professional.

I would happily recommend your firm to anybody contemplating purchasing any of the financial services products you offer.

Once again, thank you for a job well done.

Yours sincerely

Conor Malone